The power of prayer

Recently, I attended a lecture by Keith Johnson, M.D., who practices in North Carolina. His patient load has decreased drastically in the last year. Why? He has verified the power of prayer.

As a physician, I have witnessed miracles because of prayer. Harold Koenig, M.D., wrote a bestseller, "The Healing Power of Faith" two years ago describing the benefit of this act. The widely publicized study of patients recovering from bypass surgery at Mid-American Heart Institute in Kansas City compared patients who were prayed for (unbeknownst to them) to a control group who were not prayed for. The patients who were prayed for had a shorter hospital stay and a better outcome.

Dr. Johnson has brought prayer to yet another level. Royal Rife, M.D., discovered the Rife Beam Ray, used for the last 80 years to heal various diseases from colds to cancer, using pulsed frequencies of low voltage to achieve his success. Research by the scientist Elton Pigg, a colleague of Dr. Rife, discovered a life energy in all living things. This could be quantitated by a magnetic receiver with a rotating pendulum to access an individual's autonomic nervous tone.

Dr. Johnson constructed a device to "read" a person's illness and to direct a road map for his/her healing. In work soon to be published, he worked out a spiritual pathway for that patient's success with prayer. The following is his advice without any machines or devices, but derived from his intuition and perhaps channeling from the Lord:

Close your eyes, silence outside thoughts and speaking aloud, ask in the name of Jesus Christ to have the healing process start taking place NOW.

Ask him to resolve all issues, both by chance or by choice.

Ask God to recreate your soul into its youthful and healthy state.

Ask him to transform your soul to purify the body both structurally and functionally.

Give thanks to Jesus for clearing a path to God for recreating your soul and to the Holy Spirit for empowering the entire healing process.

Ask God to re-empower the Holy Spirit with the maximal potential for supporting your future.

Ask God to block demonic interaction in your life.

Ask God to shield your physical body from the energy-drawing effects of disease, both physically and psychologically.

After the above petitions are spoken, ask him to continue to resonate all you have asked until they become manifest, ending with "Thank you. Amen."
